NOTE.

The Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in the City of New York was instituted on March 17, 1784. It had its origin in Irish Officers connected with the armies of the American Revolution. On November 25, 1783, the last British soldier departed from the shores of our city, the British flag which had been nailed to the flagpole of Fort George was hauled down, the American flag was run up in its place, and the Continental Army entered the city. It was led by George Washington, then an adopted member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Philadelphia. At his side rode the Governor, General George Clinton, the son of an Irishman; and the advance battalion was commanded by General Henry Knox, also the son of an Irishman, and a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Philadelphia.

In the environment produced by these conditions, in the atmosphere of liberty and Constitutional government that followed the advent of the American army into its final possession of New York City, was born the Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. Daniel McCormick was its founder and its president for many years. The objects of the Society were, to assist poor and distressed natives, and descendants of natives, of Ireland, and promote friendly, social feelings among its members.

With these laudable purposes, on March 17, 1784, the first St. Patrick's Day following the evacuation of New York by the British, the Society inaugurated its festive functions at "Cape's Tavern." In the New York Packet and Advertiser of Thursday, March 18, 1784, the following appears:

"Yesterday, being the anniversary of St. Patrick, "his patriotic sons met at Cape's Tavern, where "they gave an elegant entertainment to his Excellency the Governor, Lieut.-Governor, Chancellor "and a number of other respectable gentlemen of "this State. The day and evening were spent in "festivity and mirth, and a number of suitable toasts "were drank upon this joyful occasion. The great- "est unanimity and conviviality pervaded this num- "erous and jovial company, and perhaps this great "Saint was never honoured with a concourse of "more generous and truly patriotic sons than this "assembly afforded."

Thus commenced (in the words of Curran), "those happy meetings when the swelling heart conceived and communicated the pure and generous purpose, the innocent enjoyment of social mirth expanded into the nobler warmth of social virtue, and the horizon of the board became enlarged into the horizon of man."

Almost uninterruptedly since, quarterly and anniversary meetings of the Society have been held. Many of the leading men of the City and State are enrolled among its members, and the records of the Society from the beginning contain names prominent in the early history of the Republic. Social and friendly intercourse was promoted and maintained among the natives of Ireland and their kinsmen and descendants. Numbers of deserving, but less fortunate fellow country-men, were relieved by the bounty of the Society, implements and materials for domestic manufacture were furnished to the industrious poor. The needy were assisted with money, medicine, clothing and fuel, the destitute were provided with homes and, when necessary, were furnished with sufficient funds to enable them to return to their native land.

The design of the badge worn by members of the Society, and which appears on the cover of this book, is a facsimile of the "reverse" of the medal worn by the members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in Philadelphia in 1771. The following in reference to that medal is from Haverty's American Almanac:

Each member was required to furnish himself with a gold medal of the value of three guineas, agreeably to the following description: On the right, HIBERNIA; on the left, AMERICA; in the center, LIBERTY joining the hands of HIBERNIA and AMERICA, representing by the usual figures of a female supported by a harp, for HIBERNIA; an Indian with his quiver on his back and his bow slung, for AMERICA; underneath, UNITE. On the reverse, ST. PATRICK tramping on a snake, a cross in his hand, dressed in pontificalibus, the motto, "HIER."

These devices, designed some years before the Revolution, were certainly ominous, if not prophetic. The Goddess of LIBERTY joining the hands of HIBERNIA and AMERICA, with the superscription "UNITE," was sufficiently significant, considering that the effect of that union powerfully promoted the subsequent dismemberment of the British Empire and the liberty and independence of America. The motto, HIER, or, without the aspirate, IER, in the Celtic language signifies "West," and from it came the name of the country, Ere, Erin, or Ireland, and Ierna, aspirated Hibernia. But the word HIER had in it a duplicate and equivocal signification, peculiarly appropriate as the motto of a society whose object was to "Unite" in fellowship the sons of the little isle of the "West" with those of the great continent of the "West." This medal the members were obliged to wear at the meeting of the Society under the penalty of 7s. 6d. for neglect to do so on St. Patrick's day, and 5s. on the days of the quarterly meetings.*

* The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Philadelphia was founded in 1771. George Washington, adopted a member December 17, 1781, dined with the Society on St. Patrick's Day, 1782, and characterized it as "a society distinguished for the firm adherence of its members to the glorious cause in which we are embarked." Other members were Generals Moylan, Shee, Wayne, Knox, Butler, Irvine, Hand; Commodore Barry, John Mease, who crossed the Delaware with General Washington on the memorable night of December 25, 1776, and surprised the Hessians; and his brother, Matthew, who commanded the quarter deck guns under Paul Jones in the Bonhomme Richard's fight with the Serapis.

On June 17, 1780, twenty-seven of its members subscribed 103,500 pounds sterling to furnish provisions for the army, Robert Morris and Blair McClenachan each subscribing 10,000

The original records of the Society from 1784 to 1835, except the Treasurer's Book from 1804, were lost by fire in August, 1835, being at that time in possession of the Secretary, whose place of business was destroyed.

The Society has been true to the principles on which it was founded. It has helped the needy and distressed, and has been the means of cementing life-long friendships among its members and among those who participated in its festivities. From the Society grew the Irish Emigrant Society and the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank. Uniting to the charitable and humane the friendly and social feelings, it seeks to keep ever vigorous the love of Ireland and of the Irish character. It celebrates the festival of St. Patrick as a national and immemorial custom, to commemorate the glory of Ireland, to drop a tear upon her sorrows and to express a hope for her regeneration. It has entertained illustrious and distinguished guests at its banquets. Its last notable dinner was given on May 29, 1902, to the French Governmental Mission attending the Rochambeau Monument ceremonies, in acknowledgment of which the Republic of pounds. William Constable, another member, an aide of Lafayette and partner of Robert Morris, was one of the founders of the New York Society.—Hood's Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, 43-49 (Phila., 1844); Crimmins' Early Celebrations of St. Patrick's Day, 215 (N. Y., 1902).

France presented to the Society a magnificent Sèvres vase now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Among the Society's members have been many of the great merchants, business and professional men of the city. To pass over the living, on its rolls appear the names of Alexander Macomb, Hugh Gaine, William Constable, Dominick Lynch, De Witt Clinton, John Caldwell, Thomas Addis Emmet, Robert J. Dillon, Joseph Stuart, Richard Bell, William Kelly, Joseph P. Kernochan, John Haggerty, Ogden Haggerty, William Sampson, David J. Graham, Charles O'Connor, James T. Brady, John R. Brady, Dr. Robert Hogan, Dr. William James MacNeven, Very Rev. Dr. John Power, Thomas W. Clerke, Daniel Devlin, Henry L. Hoguet, Eugene Kelly, Joseph J. O'Donohue, Richard O'Gorman, John Savage, Jeremiah Devlin, William Whiteside, Thomas Barbour, Hugh J. Hastings, Thomas Francis Meagher, James R. Cuming, Charles P. Daly, Frederick Smyth, William R. Grace.

Of these, Dr. William James MacNeven and Thomas Addis Emmet, whose names are indelibly written on the pages not only of Irish history, but on the history of this city and State, became members of the Friendly Sons of St.

Patrick in 1815. Facing Broadway, in the graveyard of historic St. Paul's, are reared the columns upon which are noted their services to their native country and to their adopted land, flanking on either side the tablet which perpetuates the memory of that other great Irishman, who fell at the siege of Quebec, General Richard Montgomery.

Free from all religious and political characteristics, it stands at present the representative Irish society in the City of New York.

The Recording Secretary gratefully acknowledges his indebtedness to Mr. Bartholomew Moynahan, Mr. John D. Crimmins and Mr. David McClure for valuable materials which have been freely used herein.

CHARTER
OF THE SOCIETY OF
THE FRIENDLY SONS OF ST. PATRICK
IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

AN ACT to Incorporate the Society of the Friendly Sons of Saint Patrick, in the City of New York. Passed February 13, 1827.

Whereas, the members of a Society instituted for the relief of indigent natives of Ireland, and their descendants, have petitioned the Legislature for an act of incorporation, the better to enable them to obtain the objects of their association; therefore

1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, That John Chambers, James McBride, James Magee, Alexander Charters, John Montgomery, John Cauldwell and Daniel McCormick, and such other persons as now are or hereafter shall become members of the Society of the Friendly Sons of Saint Patrick in the City of New York, are hereby constituted and declared a body politic and corporate, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Friendly Sons of Saint Patrick in the City of New York," and by that name they and their successors, during the existence of the said corporation, shall and may have perpetual succession; and shall in law be capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever: and that they and their successors may have and use a common seal, and may change and alter the same from time to time at their pleasure: and also that, by their corporate name, and in their corporate capacity, they and their successors may purchase, take, hold, use and enjoy, sell, lease and convey any estate, real or personal, for the use and benefit of said corporation: Provided, That the annual income of such real and personal estate shall not at any time exceed the sum of five thousand dollars.

2. And be it further enacted, That the said corporation shall have power to make such constitution, by-laws and regulations, as they shall judge proper, for the appointment of officers, for the admission of new members, for the government of the officers and members thereof, for collecting annual contributions from the members towards the funds thereof, for regulating the times and places of meeting of the said Society, for suspending or expelling such members as shall neglect or refuse to comply with the by-laws or regulations, and for the managing and directing the property, affairs and concerns of said Society: Provided, That such constitution, by-laws and regulations be not inconsistent with the Laws or Constitution of this State, or of the United States: Provided further, that the said corporation shall not engage in any banking business, nor dispose of any of its funds for any other purpose than the relief of such members of the said Society, natives of Ireland, and children and grand-children of natives of Ireland, or of a member of said Society, as may become indigent and poor.

3. And be it further enacted, That the present officers of said Society shall hold their respective offices until others shall be chosen in their places.

4. And be it further enacted, That this Act be, and hereby is declared to be, a public act, and that the same shall be construed in all courts and places, benignly and favourably for every beneficial purpose therein intended, and that no misnomer of the said corporation in any deed, gift, grant, devise or other instrument of contract or conveyance, shall vitiate or defeat the same: Provided, The Corporation shall be sufficiently described to ascertain the intention of the parties.

5. And be it further enacted, That the Legislature may at any time hereafter amend, alter, modify or repeal this act.

[Laws of New York, 1827 ; chapter 42.]

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I

NAME AND SEAL OF THE SOCIETY

SEC. 1. The name of the Society, fixed by Charter granted by the Legislature of the State of New York, on the 13th February, 1827, is "THE SOCIETY OF THE FRIENDLY SONS OF SAINT PATRICK IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK."

SEC. 2. The seal of this Society shall be an Irish Harp, with the motto "Erin go Bragh."

ARTICLE II

MEMBERSHIP

SEC. 1. There shall be three classes of members: (1) Active; (2) Life; (3) Honorary. The number of active members is limited to five hundred.

SEC. 2. Gentlemen of the age of 21 years and over, being natives, or the descendants of natives, of Ireland, and of good moral character, shall alone be eligible for active or life membership in this Society.

SEC. 3. The Society may elect honorary members, who shall enjoy all the privileges of active members, except those of voting and holding office. No person shall be elected an honorary member unless his name shall be first referred to the officers, who shall report thereon in writing at a regular meeting held not less than thirty days after such reference.

SEC. 4. Any candidate for active or honorary membership must be proposed by a member at a regular meeting upon written application of the candidate, who must state in writing his name, his profession or occupation, his place of residence and business and such facts as will show him to be eligible for membership.

SEC. 5. A member proposing a candidate shall be accountable to the Society for his initiation fee and first year's dues. Unless the same are paid by the member proposing or the candidate elected, within thirty days after notice of such election, the latter shall forfeit his right to membership.

SEC. 6. The initiation fee shall be ten dollars; the annual dues, five dollars. Honorary members, in lieu of initiation fee and all dues, shall pay one hundred dollars, unless the Board of Officers in their report recommend, and the Society by unanimous vote decide, that such sum shall be remitted. (As amended March 12, 1900.)

BY-LAWS

SEC. 7. The initiation fee is payable immediately on the admission of a member; the annual dues are payable on St. Patrick's Day and are for the year then ensuing. Any member elected within three months before St. Patrick's Day need not pay dues for the year ending on that day.

SEC. 8. Any member refusing to sign the charter of this Society when thereunto required, shall forfeit his membership, and his name shall be erased from the books of the Society.

SEC. 9. If any member residing permanently in this city, refuses or neglects for the space of two years, or, if residing out of the city, refuses and neglects for the space of three years, to pay his annual dues, or shall be indebted to the Society for a sum exceeding fifteen dollars ($15), his name shall, by order of the President, be erased from the books of this Society, unless, for some good reason appearing to the Society, he shall, by resolution, be continued a member.

SEC. 10. In case of the expulsion of any member, he shall nevertheless be bound to pay the amount of any indebtedness incurred up to the time of his expulsion.

SEC. 11. Any member wishing to resign, shall tender his resignation in writing, and such resignation may be accepted, provided the indebtedness for which the said member may be in arrears shall then be paid up.

BY-LAWS

SEC. 12. Any member may become a life member by vote of the Society and by the payment of $100, which shall commute the payment thereafter of annual dues.

SEC. 13. The amounts received for life and honorary membership and the surplus income of the Society shall become a permanent fund, the principal of which shall remain inviolate, and the income only shall be applied to the objects of the Society; except that if the Society shall resolve to purchase a permanent abode, the said principal may be applied to that purpose with the consent of three-fourths of the members. The income of the Society shall consist of initiation fees, dues, and the interest accruing from the investment of its permanent fund.

SEC. 14. An army and navy list shall be added to the membership list of the Society, admission to said list to be governed by the qualifications of regular membership with the exception that no annual dues or initiation fee shall be charged. (Added November 18, 1901.)

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE III

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES OF THE SOCIETY

SEC. 1. There shall be chosen annually at the Stated meeting of the Society in January, the following officers from among the members, to wit:

A President, two Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, and an Almoner.

SEC. 2. The mode of choosing said officers shall be by ballot, and the persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be declared elected.

SEC. 3. At the stated meeting of the Society, to be held on the third Monday of November in each year, there shall be elected by ballot, by a majority of the votes actually cast at such meeting, a committee of five from the body of the Society, which shall be known as the Nominating Committee, whose duty it shall be to nominate officers, to be voted for at the next election. Such committee shall be elected by ballot, and tellers shall be appointed to canvass the votes. It shall be the duty of such committee to send by mail to each member the names of the candidates selected at least fifteen days previous to the election.

BY-LAWS

SEC. 4. Members may propose candidates for officers other than those selected by the Nominating Committee; but they shall not be voted for unless a notice signed by not less than five members, stating the proposed candidates, shall be delivered to the Corresponding Secretary in time for that officer to mail such notice to each member at least five days before the election.

SEC. 5. There shall be constituted in the manner hereinafter provided, the following standing committees: (1) Committee on Charity; (2) Committee on Accounts; (3) Committee on Finance; (4) Committee on Admissions; (5) Committee on Anniversary Dinner, to be otherwise known as "Stewards."

ARTICLE IV

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

SEC. 1. The President shall preside in all meetings of the Society and shall perform all the other duties specifically devolved upon him by these By-laws.

SEC. 2. The duties of the President shall, in his absence, devolve on the First Vice-President, and, in his absence, on the Second Vice-President.

BY-LAWS

SEC. 3. The Treasurer shall have the custody of all the money and other property of the Society, and under the direction of the Committee on Finance, he shall invest the same in such securities as it may direct, and when uninvested, shall deposit the same in such bank for savings or for deposit or in such trust company in the City of New York as the Committee on Finance may direct.

He shall keep regular accounts of all receipts and disbursements in suitable books provided for that purpose, which shall be open at all reasonable times for the inspection of the officers and members.

In the accounts so kept by the Treasurer, the amount and disposition not only of the permanent fund but also of the income of the Society shall be separately stated.

In the auditing of his accounts by the Committee on Accounts he shall be required to produce vouchers for all disbursements.

He shall at each stated meeting present an abstract of his accounts, stating the amounts received and expended since the last meeting, and on account of what fund they were received and expended; and state also, the balance then to the credit of each of the funds in his book.

BY-LAWS

SEC. 4. The Recording Secretary shall have the custody of all the records and journals of the Society. It shall be his duty to attend at all the meetings of the Society, and to make regular entries in a book of minutes, to be kept by him for that purpose, of all proceedings of such meetings, and of the names of members who attend.

He shall keep a list of the members of the said Society. He shall also keep an account of the fees and dues that accrue. He may appoint a proper and discreet person to collect the same, and shall allow such person reasonable compensation therefor.

He shall pay over to the Treasurer, at least once in each month, all sums by him received, deducting the collector's fees on such part thereof as he may have collected. He shall promptly notify to the new members their election.

He shall, at each stated meeting, exhibit an abstract of his books, showing the amount of moneys he has received since the last stated meeting; the names of the members whose dues remain unpaid, and the amount they owe; the names of such members as have ceased to be members of the Society pursuant to these By-laws.

BY-LAWS

He shall, at the settling and auditing of his accounts, produce written vouchers for all sums he may have paid over to the Treasurer or to any other person.

SEC. 5. The Corresponding Secretary shall officially address and receive communications in the name of the Society, and notify the members of the stated and special meetings. He shall communicate all resolutions of the Society to such person or persons as they may affect.

He shall act as Secretary to the Stewards in all matters pertaining to the anniversary dinner, shall issue the tickets therefor, collect payment for the same, and shall, in conjunction with the Stewards (as provided in Section 2, of Article XI.), take charge of the general details of the anniversary celebration.

He shall, at the settlement and auditing of his accounts, produce written vouchers for all sums he may have paid over to the Treasurer or to any other person.

ARTICLE V

THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND ITS DUTIES

SEC. 1. The Committee on Finance shall consist of the President, First and Second Vice-Presidents, Treasurer and Recording Secretary.

BY-LAWS

The Treasurer shall be chairman of the Committee.

SEC. 2. They shall have the management of the Permanent Fund. They shall direct the investment by their chairman of the moneys belonging to said fund, as often as the Society shall pass resolutions to that effect. They shall also direct the chairman in the collection of dividends on stocks, or income, or other property belonging to the Society.

SEC. 3. They shall have power to sell out stocks or other securities belonging to the Society, for the purpose of re-investing the same more advantageously, and of making such re-investment.

SEC. 4. They shall report their proceedings at each stated meeting.

ARTICLE VI

THE COMMITTEE ON CHARITY AND ITS DUTIES

SEC. 1 The Committee on Charity shall consist of three members, to be appointed by the President, together with the President and Almoner.

SEC. 2. This committee shall have the control and management of the Charity Fund; and all recommendations for disbursements from this fund shall be made in writing, directed to the Almoner, and signed by some one of the members of this Committee; said orders must specify the names of the persons in whose favor they are granted.

BY-LAWS

SEC. 3. Said Committee may expend for Charity any sum which, by resolution of the Board of Officers, may be set apart for that purpose out of the income of the Society, or from donations of members.

ARTICLE VII

THE COMMITTEE ON ADMISSIONS AND ITS DUTIES

SEC. 1. The Committee on Admissions shall consist of five members (to be appointed by the President), and the other Officers of the Society. Its duties shall be to receive proposals for membership and to make inquiries as to the fitness of the proposed member for admission to the Society, and they shall elect or reject such candidate. The names of all applicants for membership shall be mailed to the members at least ten days before final action on them by the Committee on Admissions.

ARTICLE VIII

THE COMMITTEE ON ACCOUNTS AND ITS DUTIES.

SEC. 1. The Committee on Accounts shall consist of three members, to be appointed by the President. It shall be its duty, in the month of December in each year, or at such other time or times as it may deem necessary, to audit the accounts of the Treasurer and Secretaries, and to examine the proceedings of the committees of Finance and Charity, and to report thereon to the Society at the next stated meeting.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE IX

THE STATED MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY.

SEC. 1. The Society shall hold four stated meetings in each year, viz: on the first Monday of January, the first Monday of March, the first Monday of May and the third Monday of November, in addition to the anniversary meeting on St. Patrick's Day.

SEC. 2. All the meetings of the Society shall be held at such hour and place as the President, or person acting as President for the time being, shall appoint.

SEC. 3. Nine members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the despatch of business, except as herein otherwise provided.

SEC. 4. At each meeting the order of business shall be as follows:

1. Roll call.

BY-LAWS

2. Reading minutes of the last meeting.
3. Reports of Officers and Committees.
4. Unfinished business.
5. New business.

SEC. 5. All resolutions proposing the alteration, amendment or repeal of any by-law, or touching the funds of the Society, shall be submitted in writing and handed to the Recording Secretary to be entered on the minutes.

SEC. 6. No Committee or member of a Committee, shall incur any expenditure, chargeable to the Society, unless from funds in the hands of the Treasurer, appropriated for the purposes.

(Added November 16, 1903.)

ARTICLE X

SPECIAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY.

SEC. 1. The President shall call special meetings of the Society when he shall judge it proper to do so, or when applied to for that purpose by the Committee on Finance, by the Committee on Charity or by nine members of the Society. They shall state to him, in writing, the object of calling such meeting.

SEC. 2. Special meetings shall be confined to the transaction of such business as is indicated in the call for holding them, except in cases where the same are held by order of the President or person acting as President without a requisition from any committee or members, in which case he shall, upon the organization of the meeting, state the object for which it was called.

SEC. 3. Special meetings cannot act on any question of finance, or relating to the funds of the Society, unless there are at least twenty-one members present, three-fourths of whom must vote in favor of such question, and the yeas and nays on such vote shall be noted by the Recording Secretary.

ARTICLE XI

ANNIVERSARY MEETING OF THE SOCIETY

SEC. 1. As the charitable object of this Society will be greatly promoted by assembling its members in social and friendly intercourse around the festive board on the anniversary of Ireland's tutelary Saint, the Society shall therefore hold an Anniversary Meeting, and dine together on St. Patrick's Day, except when St. Patrick's Day falls on Sunday, in which case the following Monday shall be observed as the festival.

SEC. 2. The President and Vice-Presidents shall, after the election of officers, and before the Anniversary Festival, appoint five Stewards, whose duties shall be to select the place of meeting, provide the Anniversary Dinner, arrange the price thereof and, in conjunction with the President and Vice-Presidents, prepare the toasts, sign the invitation cards and take charge of the general detail of the Anniversary celebration.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE XII

DEATH, RESIGNATION OR REMOVAL OF OFFICERS

SEC. I. In case of the death, resignation or removal of any of the Officers of this Society, the Society at the next regular meeting thereafter shall proceed to choose others in their stead, to serve for the remainder of the term for which such officer was elected.

ARTICLE XIII

THE MODE OF ALTERING THE BY-LAWS OF THE SOCIETY

SEC I. No suspension, repeal or amendment of any of the by-laws of this Society shall be made, unless the proposition for such suspension, repeal or amendment shall be made in writing at a previous regular meeting, and a copy of such proposed amendment shall be given in the notice of each meeting at which action thereon is proposed; and such proposition cannot pass and take effect unless there are present twenty-one members, three-fourths of whom shall vote in the affirmative. The yeas and nays on such votes shall be noted by the Recording Secretary.

RULES

1. Members are requested to wear their badges at all meetings of the Society.

VISITORS.

2. The quarterly meetings are intended for members only. Members desirous of inviting guests are required to obtain cards of invitation from the chairman of the Stewards to entitle such guests to admittance. Members are expected to assist in maintaining this rule and to prevent the intrusion of uninvited guests and persons not in sympathy with the purposes of our Society.

*DEATH OF DANIEL McCORMICK, 1834.

We have the painful task of announcing the death of the venerable Daniel McCormick, Esq., at his residence in Wall Street, yesterday afternoon. This amiable old gentleman always stood high in the estimation of all who knew him. He was a true friend to the poor, and out of the abundance of his wealth, his gifts were bestowed liberally, and in the most graceful manner. The poor widow and the orphan, were among his earnest cares, and by them, and the community, his loss will long be deplored. Mr. McCormick was a native of Ireland, and one of Erin's brightest sons. May his example, in all good works, be followed by those of his countrymen in proportion to their means.—New York Gazette, Feb. 1, 1834.

Died on Friday afternoon, Jan. 31, 1834, Daniel McCormick, in the 91st year of his age. The friends of the deceased are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, No. 57 Wall Street, this afternoon at half past four o'clock, without further invitation.

The Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick are requested to attend the funeral of their late respected member, Daniel McCormick, Esq., this afternoon at half past three o'clock precisely.
